New in the Hönle sales team:
Stefan Günthner

Since October 2014, Stefan Günthner is part of the sales team of Dr. Hönle AG. As sales engineer and product manager he is responsible for UV curing devices for bonding applications.

During his studies of industrial engineering, branch Mechanical Engineering, Günthner was working in the field production scheduling and could also gain experience in sales.

Stefan Günthner is very pleased with his new field of responsibility at Hönle: "It is definitely fascinating in how many different manufacturing processes UV adhesives are applied."
